Programming the stem cells

During this Healer Year, techniques are taught that allow you to return to the frequency of the stem cells when the organ is formed. The stem cells are your DNA and can be reprogrammed so the organs can be rebuilt and brought to the future.

Stem cells always accompany us. They are here now. We have just forgotten them. In medicine, we only hear about stem cell donation; otherwise, they are not discussed. Stem cells are also in the blood and keep the veins and arteries flowing. Energy flows where attention goes, and if there is no attention on the stem cells, they will decrease.

Stem cells are the ambassadors of our life and matter because every organ is built by stem cells. People forget it because it is no longer in their consciousness. The stem cells have built every organ, therefore "stem".

Initially, there is always divine order in the structure of the organs, which emerged from two cells, in which the Fibonacci spiral and the golden section are still present. The cells are so intelligent that no computer can do what the cells build with the information.

With the techniques of this training, we can give the correct information to the organs so that they are reorganized by the stem cells. This way, the power is restored to the stem cells.

Be part of this unique training for self-healing and supporting others in their healing.

It is not a requirement to have completed Healer Training 1-5. It is open to everyone.
